Second, there are many kinds of books in libraries. We can get a lot of information from books. When I read a book about Australia last month, I learned about its history without going there. I also learned about its culture from the book.

Third, I like people who work in libraries. I often talk with the people working in the city library. They know a lot about books. They show me interesting books. When I look for books, they always help me. They are very kind. In the future, I want to work in a library.
